QUEEN ESTHER A SUCCESS.

Pleasing Cantata Put Money in High School Piano Fund.

The presentation of the cantata of "Queen Esther" by the students of the Palo Alto high school was well received here on Monday night. The credit for this marked success rests chiefly upon Professor F. F. Jeffers, the director, and the pupils of both Palo Alto and Sequoia. Financially, the results were even more satisfactory. When all expenses were paid the local high school had $55 as a first payment upon the new piano. The artistic effects were most pleasing, and the costumes, especially secured from San Francisco, were magnificent.

The tableau in act 2, where Mordecai pleads with Esther to go to the king; and the scenes in act 4, where Haman's friends hasten him to the banquet, and where the scribe tells of the king's life having been saved by Mordecai, were very well presented. The singing of Mrs. George Ross of San Francisco, an experienced milliner, will open an establishment in the Hadler block in this city on the 25th instant. She will carry the latest styles at most reasonable prices.

Trade Follows the Elag. So it does. It always follows the man who has something to do. Carry of Palo Alto always has business. He makes it.

Many hearts in this section were made happy Thursday morning by the showers of rain which began to fall gently. This wetting means thousands of dollars to this part of the State, as a longer continued dry spell would have made a very bad year for the farmers. THEY DON'T SPEAK NOW.

Crowder Crowe Gets His Finger In the Wrong Place.

Very seldom indeed it is that the courteous and jolly gentleman who presides over the destiny of the office of Coroner and Public Administrator of our county is caught napping, but now it is apparent to the most casual observer that a sudden change has come over Mr. Crowe, for the usual sunny smile has left his countenance, the bright twinkle of his eye has vanished and the general downcast appearance of the man indicates to the passing school children that for once the joke has been turned on the joker. It all happened this way. Mr. Crowe has a parrot, one of those wise birds that can tell you off hand whether Mark Hanna has any aspirations for the Presidential chair or what time all married men will reach home at night as soon as the electric reflectors are turned on the school house clock.

Tuesday afternoon last, Mr. Crowe was sitting in his easy chair on the front porch of his home enjoying an after dinner cigar. The parrot, in his cage, also occupied his usual place on the veranda. The bird of bright plumage had been unusually quiet—so much so that Mr. Crowe's attention was attracted to the household pet, and in an instant it dawned upon the mind of the Coroner that his official services would soon be required, as the parrot's death was evidently but the matter of a few moments. Quickly stepping to the cage Mr. Crowe thrust in his hand, intending as best he could, to soothe the last moments of the dying bird. As he did so, Polly straightened up suddenly, and with a gleam of the eye that said, "I know you, and I'm not dead yet," fastened its beak in the first finger of the Coroner's hand. It is not recorded just what exclamations Mr. Crowe turned loose on the balmy afternoon air, but eventually he recovered what remained of his finger from Polly's grip and managed to reach the telephone and call up his silent partner, Dr. Ross, who soon arrived, and administered the usual antidotes for blood poisoning. Mr. Crowe is at present doing nicely; so is the parrot, but neither recognize the other now, although residing under the same roof.

Important Business Change.

Benjamin Allen, who worked here for N. B. Graves for a number of years and who is now head of a corporation which will soon open a general hardware store in Palo Alto, has purchased the business of his former employer, Mr. Graves, and on Thursday took possession of the latter's store. Mr. Allen came here as a boy and learned all the branches of the business under Mr. Graves' tutelage. Realizing that there were better things ahead than working on a salary, he went to Hongkong where, beginning on a very small scale, he soon had one of the best hardware businesses on the Islands and closed out recently to return to his old home. He did not return empty handed however (for with him came his wife and baby) and he decided to cast his lot in the rising town of Palo Alto. Seeing the chances of combining a good Palo Alto business with one in Redwood, Mr. Allen made overtures to Mr. Graves with the result that the transfer was made as above noted. Mr. Allen's father will be associated in the business and he like his son, is a thorough hardware man.

Mr. Graves has made no plans for the future, but will remain in Redwood for some time and may possibly make this his permanent home. In the meanwhile he would be pleased to have all against whom he has accounts call and see him.

Eikerkotter called the Board's attention to the health officer's report in reference to the cases of glanders at Menlo Park and Halfmoon Bay.

He said that the officers wanted information to act in the matter as he did not feel justified in killing the horses. Furthermore he did not wish to incur the expense. On motion the matter was referred to the District Attorney to report.

The District Attorney said the Health Officer had consulted him to destroy the animals after ascertaining that the case was really glanders. The doctor stated, however, that Supervisor McEvoy informed him that he had no authority in the matter. The law, said the District Attorney, was plain and he should destroy the animals. Glanders is a menace to the human family as well as to the equine fraternity, and should any dispute as to authority arise the owner should destroy the animals. An owner who refuses to allow this can be prosecuted. The Health Officer will be directed at once to follow the District Attorney's instructions.

McEvoy explained that he had written to the State Veterinarian in reference to the matter and that official failed to answer his letter.

Mrs. Mary Smith aged 70 years and a resident of San Mateo applied for aid. Chairman Coleman explained that the applicant was a deserving person in need of assistance. On motion of Debenedetti seconded by Eikerkotter Mrs. Smith was allowed aid in the sum of $8 per month.

The report of Dr. Plymire in reference to the glanders case was accepted and the clerk instructed to notify the Health Officer to carry out the wishes of the Board.

At the suggestion of the District Attorney the applicant for a rebate on the liquor license of Mrs. Bartels was laid over.

Samuel A. Whitehead aged 67 years and a resident of Pescadero applied to the Board for aid. On motion of McCracken seconded by Debenedetti, He was allowed aid in the sum of $8 per month.

Afternoon Session.
The Board met at 1:30 o'clock pursuant to adjournment during the morning session.

The clerk reported having notified all those in the county who have been receiving State aid for half-orphan and orphan children and they must present new applications, and in response thereto he had received the following: Elizabeth McDonald and three children of South San Francisco; Margarida C. Amarae and two children, residing near the Burke ranch; Mary George and two children of Pescadero.

The aid is extended only to the various children. The mothers are paid $8 per month for their care by the county, which sums are returned by the State. The applications were granted on motion of McCracken seconded by Eikerkotter.

County Recorder J. F. Johnston made a written application for clerical assistance to aid in preparing abstracts of mortgages for the Assessor. Every year the sum of $75 is allowed for this work. Mr. Johnston explained to the Board that the work of his office had grown very materially in recent years and a larger amount would be needed. He thought the work would not exceed $125. On motion of McEvoy seconded by Eikerkotter the Recorder was allowed that sum.

A letter was received from the State Department of Highways stating that the oiling of roads is becoming a fixed practice in this State and the department is engaged in compiling all the data possible on the subject. A list of some twenty questions to be answered was inclosed, and the matter was referred to McEvoy to supply the information desired, based by the experiments made in this county.

The following communication was received from State Horticultural Commissioner Ellwood Cooper was read and ordered filed:

OFFICE OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONER OF HORTICULTURE.
SACRAMENTO, CAL., January 18, 1904.
J. Eikerkotter, Esq., Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Redwood City, Cal.—Dear Sir: The season for the importation of nursery stock is now on, and also the proper season for taking active measures against the spread of diseases over your county. As fruit-growing is the chief industry of our State, and the one on which we rely more than upon any other, for bringing money and prosperity to our producers, it is imperative that every possible safeguard should be thrown around it.

There are a number of counties which have no Boards of Horticultural Commissioners, or any means for preventing the introduction of injurious insects or diseases over your county, and it is possible, by thus leaving an open entrance, that destructive foes may be admitted that will do untold harm to this, or one great industry.

I wish to call your attention to the great importance and the imperative need for such action to prevent such a calamity. At the same time, it is imperative, in behalf of our own producers, that their orchards should be kept in such a condition that marketable fruit may be produced. It very often happens that the great majority of fruit-growers of a county are not only willing, but anxious to do what they can to this desirable end, but the law, which is a matter of indifference, or some non-residents, may allow their orchards to be overrun with pests, which will effectively destroy all the labor and good work that may be done by more enterprising orchardists.

In view of these facts, we wish to urge upon your honorable body, the necessity of appointing and maintaining a competent Board of Horticultural Commissioners, who will do their duty in excluding from your county, and, through it, from our State, all of the serious pests that now afflict a great many of the eastern states and foreign countries, and who will, at the same time, take the necessary measures for keeping in check such pests as already exist in your county.

Will you please lay this matter before your Board at its first meeting, and also let me know what action you have taken in the premises.

Very truly yours,
ELLWOOD COOPER,
State Horticultural Commissioner,
per John Isaac, Clerk.

Whereas, Certain lands lying near San Bruno, in the County of San Mateo, State of California, have been subdivided into lots and blocks, for the purpose of sale;

Provided, however, and upon the express condition, that the County of San Mateo does not hereby become responsible or liable for any expense, cost or charge as to such avenue, lane, drive or highway, or any thereof, whether for grading or macadamizing, or for other road work.

MENLO, February 5.—Mrs. Alice Johnson is here from Speckles to spend a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Jane Loveland.

The dance-loving young people are looking forward with much pleasure to the League of the Cross Cadets' dance in their armory next Friday evening. As this will be the last dance before Lent, a good time is anticipated. The music will be furnished by the Tapscott band of five pieces. This being the last year may be safely said that "Mony lads and lassies' fates are there that night decided."

Parents of children residing in the Polhemus tract and University Heights are combining their forces to make an effort to form a new district, the building to be erected at University Heights. They will allege in their petition to the Supervisors that there are 55 children between the ages of 5 and 17 years and 16 under 5 in the proposed new district. All live more than two miles from the Menlo Park school.

C. W. Callaghan, who recently purchased a beautiful home site in La Loma Park is about to expend $40,000 in a residence and in beautifying the grounds. A. M. Mayberry, the well-known landscape gardener, is now in charge and is engaged in laying out avenues and walks. He is preparing to plant lawns, shrubbery and flowers in the spring. Mr. Mayberry, whose expert his line, is shortly to lay out the grounds of the Fair Oaks golf links, which are to be beautified with rare shrubbery and choice flowers.

The Supreme Court of the United States has refused to issue a writ of certiorari to disturb the decision of the case of Percy Moore vs. the Bank of British Columbia, and the mandate was received Tuesday by Clerk Beasley of the United States Circuit Court. By the action of the Circuit Court of Appeals the bank is ordered to deliver to Moore five thousand and three-quarter certificates of stock of the Sanger Lumber Company without any payment being required of him. The suit was begun several years ago by Mr. Moore's father. Nearly half a million is involved in the suit.

The Italian artisans who have been doing the mosaic work on the interior of Stanford Memorial Church have finished their work. The entire east and west walls have been covered with mosaics and carved work. Some of the mosaics are of plain gold, while a large number represent scriptural incidents. Since the completion of the mosaics on the west wall, the gold mosaics have shown up in two different colors, some light, while others are very dark. It has been decided therefore to put the scaffolding back again and remove the darker spots of the mosaics to make the entire work uniform.

On Sunday William and Frank Gray of Palo Alto left for their old home at Mountsview, West Virginia, for a five weeks' visit. Thursday evening their many friends here gave them a farewell banquet at a local well known cafe. The banquet was served in course, beginning with oysters on the half shell and ending with cake and champagne. Thomas Cochran was the toastmaster and in a well rounded speech wished Messrs. Gray a pleasant journey to their old home in the Sunny South and a safe return to the land of perpetual sunshine occasionally kissed by the gentle dew from heaven. Will Gray, who is known in the College town for his oratorical ability, responded with much enthusiasm. He waxed eloquently in enumerating the many reminiscences of his boyhood days down on the old Virginia farm. Frank Gray also made a neat speech, thanking all present for the many kind sentiments expressed. Among others who responded to toasts were Geo. Rater, Joe Hull, Doctor Moses, James T. Lynch, Ed. Barry, John E. Maloney, Dan Hickey and Mr. Wheeler.

CASEY-WOOSTER WEDDINGS.
The chief social event of the season at Menlo Park was the wedding of George P. H. Casey and Miss Libbie Wooster Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Nativity. The crowd that packed the edifice attested the popularity of the young couple and expressed the deep interest that is shared by all who know them. The interior of the church was aglow with hundreds of electric lights, while the altar was beautifully festooned with smilax. At the appointed hour the bridal party to the cadence of Mendelssohn's wedding march entered the church and marched down the aisle, the beautiful bride on the arm of John Morey, the best man, while the bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Wooster, attended by the groom, led the way to the altar, where the party was met by Father Lyons and Father Bailey. The former performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner, and after making two hearts forever beat as one, congratulated the young couple. During the ceremony, "O Promise Me" was sweetly rendered. The handsome bride carried a bouquet of white carnations, and was dressed in a soft pure white gown of organdy with satin bodice to match, trimmed with ribbon and lace. She wore a chiffon hat with large white ostrich plume. The bridesmaid was attired in a dress of white organdy trimmed with pink ribbon and lace. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom and best man wore suits of conventional black. Carriages were in waiting and after the ceremony nearly one hundred guests were driven to the Wooster residence on the Stanford premises, where the young couple were heartily congratulated. An adjournment was then taken to the dining-room where a wedding breakfast was served. The decorations of this room were of a delicate shade of pink and white, and the soft glow of the lights upon the dainty tables seemed to make the very atmosphere redolent of the happiness which swelled over the hearts of every guest around the festive board. Among those who drank the health of Mr. and Mrs. Casey was Mrs. Chas. Lathrop, a warm personal friend of the bride. Father Lyons made a very happy remark, during which he exhorted the young men to follow the example set by the blessing young groom, and was followed by Jas. T. O'Keefe, Capt. Morey, Sr., E. J. Whitaker, E. J. Atchinson, J. W. Murray, P. P. Roach, William Casey, Sr. and others. The good wishes and Godspeeds were drunk to Mr. and Mrs. Casey

What Time Proves.
This thing of being sick and looking for a cure is a mighty serious business. People are not given to joking even at the first symptom of the approach of the grim destroyer. They do not want to be the subjects of experiment, but want medicine that has the test of years behind it. A medicine that has been made and used for 20 years gives assurance of its worth, and can be taken with a faith that they have the very best cure the world affords. All this can be said about Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as a remedy for sickness, headache, dyspepsia, and indigestion,
it begins right at the source of the trouble and removes the cause. We will send a sample box of the pills free, or a full box on receipt of 25 cents. Sold by all druggists for 25 cents per box, or address

Woman's Butler.
A woman who keeps her house in order and has the care of a family, has just as much responsibility as the man who provides the means to carry on the housekeeping. She is the dearest of the household, and the demands on her strength are greater. The everlasting necessity to carry them out is very trying to the nervous system, this produces a strain on the mind that makes her irritable, cross, and dissatisfied, which is just as much a disease as rheumatism or cancer. If the nerves can be built up and made strong by medicine of some kind, this feeling is changed to one of cheerfulness and pleasure in her duties.
The medicine that makes strong steady nerves, and prevents disease by building up the entire system, is Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic, a fact to take at meal time. Cures nervous prostration by making rich blood, feeding the nerves, and making solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3 pounds a week. This medicine is sold by druggists for 75 cents per box, or 3 boxes
for $2, or sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price. Write up about your case.
